Lynn joined Pudney Shuttleworth in July 2007 as a Researcher / Agency Surveyor. Since joining the practice she has worked across all areas of the business, however, the main focus of her work is researching new occupiers and markets as well as assisting on the agency side of the business.

Prior to joining Pudney Shuttleworth, Lynn undertook recruitment and business liaison roles at the University of Leeds and BPP Law School, Leeds. At BPP she headed up a team whose role was to provide support to students seeking training and to liaise with solicitors firms and barristers to develop business links with the Law School. During this time she successfully completed a Graduate Diploma in Law, which included the study of Land Law.

Her business liaison, marketing and research experience and her knowledge of the law, has enabled Lynn to make a valuable contribution to expansion of the business.
